Animalytix Announces Second Data Center at Cosentry in the KC Animal Health Corridor

Animalytix LLC announced their continued investment in the Corridor at the KC Animal Health Corridor Homecoming event, with the establishment of its fully redundant technology infrastructure hosted at Cosentry's new data center facility located in Lenexa, Kansas. "For a technology-based company like Animalytix, selection of the right data center is a critical decision. Given the significance KC Corridor to our business and the animal health industry, we wanted to establish a key part of our technology infrastructure in the Kansas City metro area and continue our strong commitment to the region," said Chris Ragland, CEO, Animalytix. "We are very impressed with the Cosentry team and pleased to have the opportunity to bring our platform to their new Lenexa facility."
